$100,000 Deal Made By J. I. Hamilton

Does diligence and perseverance bring a SURE REWARD? About twenty years ago, Mr. Thomas Sanders died and left some boys way down on the Kentucky river. Old men were asked at the time, "If they could get by and could they live," they would shake their heads, and say, "I'm afraid not."

But they "hit the trail," unnoticed, unassisted, reached out, began to pick up some land. It was then that the men with blue lips etc., past fifty years, said; "Looks like they are going to make it, that's wonderful." Yes, they relied on their own judgment, developed their will, instead of allowing it to perish for want of exercise, and it was at this time that their bank account began to strength-

Instead of the people wondering if these orphans would live, are now asking each other, "how much are they going to have?"

They bought land and added to the widowed mother's dower, came on out a little farther, bought a brick house on the Buckeye pike, tried their wings a little and sailed down last Friday and bought the "Nick" Perkins farm on the Lexington pike, containing 250 acres, the best improved and the most fertile land between Lancaster and Lexington.

AMERICAN LEGION

BROTHERS Hold District Meeting Young Life Comes To Graded and High At Stanford.

Home Boys Cordially Greeted.

A district convention meeting of the American Legion was held at Stanford last Saturday and about twelve members of the Heidal Sanford Post attended from here. They were given a cordial greeting by the Caswell Saufley Post of Stanford, as a result our local boys are very ardent in their praise of our neighboring post.

The following from Monday's Courier Journal gives this interesting article concerning the meeting:

"The "dead line" between Stanford and Lancaster will vanish with Memorial Day services for American heroes of all wars.

Differences responsible for a nearmany years ago, were composed Saturday at a legion meeting in Stanford, according to Emmet O'Neal, Louisville, national executive committeeman, Amercan Legion, who returned last night.

Because of feelings between youth of the two towns, the younger residents of each place, unless in force, kept on their own reservations for nearly a generation. An encounter waves. at a dance, dimly recalled by older residents, is said to have generated this feeling.

However, throughout the years, though no serious clashes occurred. there were reports of rock-throwing and lively chases led by out-numbered factions, homeward bound.

Then the war came. Under the new management, with our own J. "Bott" Haselden in command, the entire grounds, buildings, etc. have been revolutionized and now the famous old health resort is a thing of beauty and so permanent are the imforever. Over $40,000 has been spent in improvements and judging extreme high cost of materials, one would wonder how so much could have been accomplished, even with $40,000. The annual opening will be next Tuesday and a dance that evening promises to eclipse anything ever attempted of this character in that neck of the woods. It will cost you nothing to look and very little to eat, although they have every delicacy of half this price they are going to sell the season and much out of season if

HUDSON FRISBIE MEETS DEATH BY DROWNING.

Community Shocked.

A pall that would not lift fell over our city last Saturday afternoon, when it was announced that Hudson Frisbie had just drowned in Dix river, below the dam of the Danville waterworks, where he in company with Red Roberts, John Bright and several girls grades. were members of a picnic party from Danville, which was spending the afternoon on the river.

Hudson, together with Roberts, had gone into the river just below the dam, where the rush of the water over the barrier, caused a dangerous whirl fued based on a hazy incident of and undertow. He was caught in the undertow of the muddy water and immediately went under. It was then that Roberts sprung into the raging waters and swam to the rescue of program: the young man and succeeded in reaching him, but with the agony of a drowning person, young Frisbie clutched at Roberts bathing suit and tore a strip from the cloth, and then his body disappeared beneath the

The floral offerings were the largest ever seen here, the designs prac-

He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frisbie of this city, just nineteen years of age, and the idol of his fond and devoted parents. He was a dutiful son and a young man of splendid promise; the joy and pride of his home circle and an appreciated friend and companion among the younger people. His change came while he was still a student, fitting himself to enter upon life's sterner duties and wider fields of conquest, to which he was looking forward with good hope and courage. We know not what achievements of fame and earthly glory he has been denied or what sorrows and misfortunes he has escaped. We cannot forecast or read the contents of life by its horoscope, however bright; we only know that he has gone from our view; the hearts which cherished him are sore and empty; and that other hearts which have known bereavement respond to the sorrow of this

TWO BROTHERS

Receive War Citations.

It is rather unusual that two brothers enlist from the same town, each go through the great world's war and each in different commands, should be honored with citations for exceptional gallantry.

Such is the case however, with two of our Lancaster boys, Messrs Stanley and J. Sterling Herron, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Herron of this city. Both of these boys volunteered their services during the war and both were soon sent to the front, each by their gailantry and extraordinary valor, receiving citations within the last few days from their Generals in com-

Stanley's being "for distinguished and exceptional gallantry" at Fleville. France, on October 6th, 1918. The citation was signed by John J. Pershing, Commander of the Expeditionary Forces.

Sterling's award of honor or citation came from General Petain, signed by him personally, being a French award, is just a little hard for us common folks to translate, but we do know that it was for exceptional bravery in a close conflict with the enemy, and he carries a wound today, received in the battle, for which he is now honored.

WORLD WAR

Cost 35,000,000 Lives.

London,-The total cost of the World War in lives has reached the apalling figure of 35,380,000, according to final estimates made by the Copenhagen society for the study of the consequences of the war, and made public recently.

These figures were reached after an exhaustive study of the decrease in the birth rates in the countries involved as well as increase in deaths from causes directly attributed to Actual military deaths in killed totaled 9,829,000, according to the report. Each European nation involved lost the equivalent of 8.8 per cent of its population from all causes. Each nation's actual killed equalled 2.5 per cent of its population.

Serbia was the heaviest suffer of all the belligerents. She lost thirtyfive per cent of her total population, while her actual killed equaled 14.8 per cent.

Letting George Do It.

In the opinion of the average foreign country America is one vast hive of agricultural industry.

They seem to think that all they have to do is to ask and we will hand over the food.

America has been generous in the past in dividing its food supply with Europe, even when we had to deny ourselves to do it. But the war is over and war conditions and necessities no longer exist.

The American farmer is very short of help and crop outlooks are not of the best, according to published re-

Experts predict a shortage of foodstuffs next winter, with the possibility of bread and soup lines in the cities of our own country.

If this should happen Europe can not expect us to meekly hand over the food we need to sustain life among our own people.

Exporting profiteers would course take advantage of the situation and send food to Europe at enormous gains to themselves. But the public will not have it so. If such is attempted the roar of protest will be long and deep and will engulf any person who attempts to starve American women and children for the sake of selling to Europe at great personal profit.

America asks neither alms nor favors from any country.

We are ready to relieve distress aeross the water when conditions and humanity permit, but we are not willing to send our own people to bed hungry in order to do it.

Europe can work and produce if it will. It should quit piddling and quabbling and cultivate that will.

"Letting George do it," doesn't appeal strongly to us, especially when we are expected to make ourselves a universal and perpetual George.

SHE FEELS FINE NOW

Aches and pains often indicate kidneys out of order. Your kidneys surely need help-and quickly-when your hands or feet are swollen and you feel dull and sluggish, lose your appetite and your energy and there is a puffy look under the eyes. Mrs. L. Gibson, 12th and Edison St., La-Junta, Colo., writes: "My kidneys were giving me a great deal of trouble for some time. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me right away. I feel fine now."

Back To The Farm.

Is the tide beginning to turn? Young men in some of our big cites are yearning for an opportunity to get onto the farms, and the press is advising such a course.

The wild assininity and profligate spendthrifery of the cities is palling

They prefer the freedom and greater security of country life, even if the hours are a little longer and the work a little harder.

They have come to realize that their earnings in the city are eaten up in the profiteering prices now being charged for everything they buy, both essentials and luxuries.

They see nothing ahead of them but a ceaseless repetition of earning it today and spending it tomorrow.

Having brains, they are beginning to employ them to advantage. And being but a little cog in a big weel in the cities, they would migrate and opportunity for all. A national campaign for repopulating the farms of the country is one of the prime requisites for a return to

to the country, where there is room

commercial stability. It requires food to keep soul and body together, and food can only be produced where there are men to do the work.

One of the most delightful of the social events of the season was the "Old Fashioned Party" given by Mrs. R. I. Burton last Thursday afternoon. For the occasion the home was prettily decorated with red geraniums and narcissis. About 30 guests were present and each was asked to make rhyme about how to reduce the H. C. L. and to wear a "calico" dress. During the afternoon music was enjoyed, also a "guessing contest", the 'Medical Trunks". Mrs. E. W. Perkins, Mrs. J. Hogan Ballard, Misses Zillah Dawes and Mayme Ballard. having all the answers correct drew for the prize, Mrs. Perkins being the winner was presented with an attractive apron. Refreshments of red lemonade, ginger cake and peppermint stick candy were served. Mrs. Burton was an ideal hostess and each one had a most delightful time. Among the guests from a distance were Misses Roberts and Giltner of Wilmore, and Mrs. Forrest Stapp of Lancaster. All looked most attractive in their "calico" frocks.

Make Your Home

Cheerful Home

You can't expect folks to be happy and contented where the home is in half-darkness and premeated by the smell of smoky lamps. Every member of your family is entitled to all the bright electric light which city folks have. If somebody asked you to buy an expensive plant that simply furnished light and no more, you might have some good arguments against such a purchase, but when you think of a lighting plant that is also a plant capable of operating any and every small machine on your place, that is another matter.

is such a plant. In addition to being a perfect electric lighting plant, it has a pulley by which machines can be run while charging your batteries. When this is done, your lights cost charging your batteries. When this is done, your lights cost practically nothing. Genco Light is such a positive labor saver that owners figure that this power practically takes the place of farm help. It certainly does enable the help to do more; or less help to do the same work. Genco Light is not a luxury—it is a servant that will increase production and pay for itself in actual dollars and cents. You really owe it to yourself to call here with your wife and see this wonderful plant at work. May we expect you?

The persons interested in the projects, instead of trying to withdraw the $500,000 raised for the work, are setting an example, as the Governor reviewed it, by proposing to let their contributions go into the construction and simply asking the State to appropriate the sum it would otherwise be required to and devote this to a more lasting type of road.

By coincidence the Federal aid project, extending from Hardyville, Hart County, on the Jackson Highway, through Green, Taylor, Marion, Boyle, Garrard and Madison counties, conforms the two new state highway projects. The residents had raised good cheer, for to every cloud there the money necessary and were preparing to obtain Federal aid when the new law was passed.

It then occurred to them that they were spending their money for a the mail order house catalogue is one would build, and they learned from Commissioner Boggs that until the new law becomes operative no arrangements may be made for re-imbursing counties for funds advanced for State Highway projects.

Commissioner Boggs told them, however, that where local aid is forthcoming, in his opinion, the commission will be inclined to initate the work, and he suggested the plan which met with Governor Morrow's approval.

They will certify the amount they have raised and then got Federal Aid for the project. Then when the new commission comes in they will propose that the State add to the fund sufficient to pave instead of macedamize the road as was contemplated. By this means those counties will get for their money a first class permanent road and the state will get for the amount it would have spend on the projects, had local funds not been raised a high type of road which will

New York World. Living cost in the United States March 1, last, had increased 7 per cent since Nov. 1, 1919, a report yesterday by the National Industral Conference Board shows.

Since July, 1914, the H. C. L. has leaped 95 per cent, the board reports and within the last twelve months the increase was 21 per cent.

Between July, 1914, and March, 1920, food gained in price 100 per cent; clothing, 177 per cent; shelter, 49 per cent; fuel heat, and light, 49 per cent; and miscellaneous costs, 83 per cent.

The information upon which these estimates yere based was obtained from a survey of a large number of retail dealers in foodstuffs and clothing and of brokers in touch with real estate conditions.

JAMES I. HAMILTON

Marshfield Is Interested

Postmaster Hamilton le Disposing of Many Treasury Saving Certificates.

As the Postmasters and the publie throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District are becoming familiar with the liberal terms attached to the purchase of the United States Treasury Savings Certificates the sales increase.

In Marshfield, Webster County, Mo., down in the Southern part of the state, C. C. Hamilton, the postmaster has put in some effective licks in disposing of the securities.

On May 6th he sent his first order for a $100 Certificate. The next day he did better and sent in an order for a $1000 Certificate. Then five days later, on May 12th, he forwarded another order for three $100 Certificates, and announced that he had run out of application blanks, and figured that he could use another 25 before the end of the month.

The postmasters are proving a tower of strength in helping the Treasury Department in getting these securities in the hands of the people, just whom it was designed by the Government to benefit when the campaign was inaugurated.

Your Home Town First.

By Dr. Frank Crane

Work for your home town. Beautify it. Improve it. Make it attractive.

The World War and the Treaty of Peace and the Protective Tariff and all such things are important subjects; but what's the good of cleaning up the world unless you sweep your doorstep?

The city whose main street is dirty, sordid-looking, cluttered, uninviting, suffers much. Such a city wants to be cleaned made a thing of beauty, so people will come miles to see it.

The best advertisement of your business is the twn you live in. Towns get reputations, as well as Company Strong For Treasury Savings Certificates.

The big industrial establishments in St. Louis are taking mighty kindly to the plan of buying United States Treasury Savings Certificates on the installment plan.

One day last week the employes of the Traffic Motor Truck Corpor-ation, 5200 North Second street, bought these Government securities to the extent of $15,000. The plant was visited by J. H. Sowerby and John H. Anderson, of the Savings Division of the St. Louis Organization, who addressed the men.

The sales were all for the $100 Certificate, and $2 per week will be reserved by the company from the salary of each worker and this will be applied to the payment of the certificate until it is fully paid, when it will be turned over to the subscriber.

The men were shown that the cer tificates would mature in five years and that the investment if held until maturity would yield 4.27 per cent, that they are registered and are to all intents and purposes non-taxable.

In all the large cities in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the installment plan is proving exceedingly popular, and in many of the smaller cities many of the securities are being sold on the same plan.

POINTERS FOR BEEF GROWERS

One Method of Bringing Down Prices of Meat Is Improvement in Type of Animals.

General improvement in the type and quality of beef animals the country ver is one of the means urged by the United States Department of Agriculture for bringing down the high cost of meat to the consumer and at the same time, increasing the profit of the producer. Some of the most es-

Proper care of the breeding herd and the calves. Selection of good helfer calves to replace old or inferior cows. Prevention of disease among the breeding herd and the younger stock. Shelter sufficient to protect the cattle from both severe cold and extremely hot weather. A practical knowledge of fattening attle for market.

Marketing to advantage. There is a farmers' bulletin, No. 1073, on growing beef on the farm that may be had free on application to the Division of Publication, United States Department of Agriculture.

HOGGING DOWN RYE UNWISE

Practice is Unprofitable, According to Pork Production Tests at the Ohio Station.

Hogging down rye is an unprofitable pork production at the Ohio experiment station. The tests show that it is generally more profitable to harvest the grain and sell it as a cash crop or to feed the grain to hogs after thrashing rather than to allow the hogs to harvest the grain themselves.

Specialists point out that the daily increase per pig when hogging down rye is generally less than half a pound and that the amount of grain required to produce 100 pounds of gain is much higher than where the grain is fed di-rectly to the hogs. As a rule, about 611 pounds of rye, hogged down, were required to produce 100 pounds of gain, whereas hogs fed on corn with tankage and clover pasture required but 331 pounds of concentrates to produce the same amount of gain. The unprofitableness of hogging down rye is attributed to the fact that hogs are either unable to secure rye in sufficient quantities or are inclined to eat only slightly more than is required for maintenance.

Mud wallows are unsanitary and breed disease.

There is a tendency to feed too much roughage to horses.

Oats, especially for little pigs, should be ground and hulls sifted out.

The early lamb gets a larger supply of milk from the ewe than the late lamb does.

Water should be kept in the lots all the time. Never force hogs to drink from a stagnant pool.

Judge a sow by the size and vitality of her litter, as well as by her conformity to the breed type.

Young pigs cannot learn to eat too oon. They should be encouraged to eat when as young as three weeks of . . .

A variety of crops are available for hog pasture, including the alfalfa, red clover, rape, Canada field peas mixed with oats and barley. Winter or hairy etch is a valuable crop.

Ridiculous Importance.

You cannot hope for anything like contentment so long as you continue to attach that ridiculous degree of Importance to the events of this life, which so many people are inclined to lo.-Arthur Helps.

What Birthmarks Indicate.

According to a French scientist, birthmarks in families not now of good social position indicate that they are of knightly descent, the marks being due to the fact that their posses sors' ancestors were armor.

Daysman an Arbitrator.

A daysman is an arbitrator, umpire or judge. The term is of Angle-Saxon origin and is still used in the northern part of England to describe an unofficial judge or arbitrator to whom a matter in dispute is referred. The origin of the term is obscure.

Remedies for Cholera.

Old-fashfoned Turkish physicians have plenty of remedies for cholera. An agate in the pocket and a hyacinth worn near the neck are much esteemed, but the hone of a dead child carried in the pocket is regarded as nearly as efficacious.

Two Causes of "Eye Spots." Spots before the eyes are of two kinds, namely floating and stationary. The former is a normal effect from natural imperfections of the eye, more noticeable in case of digestive disturbances. The stationary spots are a symptom of cataract, or opacity of the crystalline lens.

Wood Alcohol Always Injurious. Wood alcohol may cause blindness not only when taken as a beverage but by absorption through the skin, in the case of the use of such articles as hair tonics containing the poison. It may also produce the same effect by way of lungs when inhaled from varnishes, etc.

Milch Goats in America.

Six thousand goats are listed in the American milch goat registry. Three breeds are recognized. The Toggenburgs were originally imported from the valley of that name in Switzerland. They are distinguished by exact brown and white markings, especially about the head. Saanen goats hall from the Sannen valley, Switzerland, and are pure white. The Anglo-Nublan goats are a cross between the common English goat and the Nublans of Africa. They are a spotted variety and vary in color.

TO BE SOLD ON OUR NEW FARM, 2 MILES FROM DANVILLE, ON THE PERRYVILLE PIKE, DANVILLE, KENTUCKY,

WEDNESDAY, JUNE

PROPERTY OF A. D. AND WALKER BRADSHAW, LANCASTER, KENTUCKY.

You will find this an extraordinary offering of Angus Cattle. There will be very few offerings of Angus Cattle made this season that will equal this offering. They have the OUTSTANDING INDIVIDUALITY and their blood lines are MOST WON-DERFUL. Only the most fashionable and the most valuable families are listed for this GREATEST ANGUS EVENT.

BLACK CAPS, BLACKBIRDS, TROJAN, ERICA, PRIDES OF ABERDEEN, K. PRIDES AND QUEEN MOTH-ERS, LADY IDA, ETC.

Every animal in this offering is absolutely guaranteed to be right. Only six bulls have been catalogued for this GREAT offering. Everyone will stand the most rigid examination. Their individuality is most pleasing and their bloodlines are unquestionable. Each and every one has much to recommend him to the breeder who is looking for a TOP-NOTCHER herd bull. Ages that are most useful—15 to 18 months old. Fresh from first hands. There is scarcely a breeder in the land that would not be proud of one of these HIGH CLASS bulls at the head of his herd.

The 36 cows and heifers listed in this extraordinary event are what one would pronounce MOST EXTRAORDINARY. Most of the cows have calves at foot or close to calving, to the services of Black Cap Royalty which is closely related to the $45,000.

grand champion Black Cap Bertram, the breed's greatest bull ever produced.

The cows and heifers in this greatest of all Angus doings, for individuality, bloodlines, usefulness and superior value are unexcelled. They are teeming in the blood of the greatest sires the breed has ever produced. You will find the condition of these cows and heifers the most perfect for profitable money-makers. You will find show-yard prospects among the cows, two year old yearlings and suckling calves. There has never been such an opportunity for the established breeder to make choice selections to strengthen his herd, and the beginner surely has the chance of his life to get a way on the right foot in founding a new herd.

Do not overlook the fact that you have breeders behind these cattle whose word is as good as a gold bond, and you can assure your self a square deal.

Eleven Hundred Acres

Which has been in the hands of the Mitchells something like one hundred years. Said land is located in Boyle County, lies on both sides of the Lebanon and Danville turnpike, eight miles from Danville. Part of it lying almost within the city limits of Mitchellsburg. The Mitchell homeplace has about three hundred acres which has been divided into three tracts. One tract containing 135 acres. This tract has a nice two story frame dwelling and extra good repair with nice shade trees, and is one of the most beautiful locations in the county. Is an ideal country home, good stock barn, tobacco barn, and other necessary buildings. This is fine land and will grow tobacco, wheat, corn and all other crops. Tract number two, contains 76 acres, has tenant house and good pike frontage. Plenty of water and a nice building site. Tract number 3 contains 91 acres, has a good long pike frontage and plenty of old blue grass sod. This farm contains twelve other tracts, with fine timber. The most of which has pike frontage. The said tracts contain 15 to 100 acres each, and will be sold in separate tracts to suit purchaser. The most of this land is virgin soil, there being lots of very fine timber on said land.

Don't fail to look this land over be fore the sale. This property will be sold to settle up the estate, and will sell for the High Dollar without reserve or limit.

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

Tis characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over. I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the lazatives and catharties on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply setting on the upper or small intentiate, while others would act only on the lower or large intestines, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

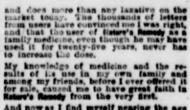

I believed that a preparation to produce the back of the liver.

ST. ALBAN'S BELLS &

By ELEANER R. JOHNSON

(1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. Among the many cities, towns and villages scattered over the world there is not one which does not have some particular characteristic, some custom which makes it apart from all others. It is the little village of St. Albans, situated among the broad, sloping hills of New England, which will perhaps bring out this spirit most clearly, for about its quaint custom the romance of Anne Bryce and John Cameron is

On the slope behind St. Albans stands a small church, and by its doorway one may read a bronze tablet stating that in 1865 the church was erected by a certain Charles Longworth in memory of his son, who died for the Northern cause in 1861. As the old sexton comes up on his tour of work and inspection he will tell you that whenever any festivity takes place in the village it was the wish of the founder that the bells in the ivycovered tower be rung.

Many times the bells had pealed forth while white-clad brides had slipped elusively away with their husbands, and it was on such an occasion when the minister's son had been married that Anne Bryce and John Cameron were sitting on a grassy booli overlooking the village,

"The Klondike calls me tomorrow, Anne," he said gently. Then looking toward the Northwest, "What a land of promise! What shall I not be able to do for you when I return! And then it will be but a year or so before I am back again!"

"But a year or so," Anne murmured. "But, perhaps the next time the bells of St. Albans ring it will be for you and me, Anne." The sun was setting. They rose and walked slowly down into the village.

The next morning John Cameron, de parted for the Klondike, and, as the train slowly drew out from the station, Anne waved a good-bye with her hand-kerchief, then quickly rubbing her eyes she went home to wait "for a year or Three years had passed, and Anne Bryce's pretty little cottage seemed to reflect the very atmosphere of the July day. The front gate creaked, and a tall, good-natured looking man stalked up the path. Anne was sitting on the piazza shelling peas.

Joe stretched his long legs the ength of the steps, ate two or three green peas and then asked: "Heard anything from John? When's e coming or isn't he coming at all?" She sighed. "I'm waiting, Joe. 1 haven't heard anything about him since he left, except that one letter he wrote just before he got to Alaska; but I believe he is safe, and I will always keep to my promise that I'd be here when he came home!" "Umph! Anne, if he doesn't come back pretty soon do you think you could ever look my way?"

"No, I'm sorry, Joe, but I said I would wait, and the bells of St. Albans haven't rung since he went away. He hoped they would ring for us when he returned, and I know they will." And she set the dish of shelled peas down with a thud as if to emphasize her determination. Joe arose awk-

"Well, I must be a goin'; perhaps you may consider my proposal some time, Anne." And he sauntered off disappointed. "If I didn't have any more to do than to sit on folks' doorsteps and propose I declare I would-" Anne exclaimed as she bustled about in the kitchen, and then stopped short and turned around for she saw a shadow fall across the doorway.

A very different sort of man stood before her now; pale, tired and haggared looking, his face partly covered by a long beard, while his hair was streaked with gray. For a momen Anne looked startled, then with a little cry she fairly flew to him.

"John, I waited oh, so long, but you are here now. It all seems too good to be true!"

"Yes-Anne, here I am. I haven't brought back what I hoped I could. goodness knows, but, in spite of that. perhaps"-and as he looked down into her face-"Yes, surely the ells of St. LANCASTER, KENTUCKY. Albans will ring for us as they never have rung before!"

A Fair Exchange. They met in front of the News of fice-a young woman and a man of uncertain age. "Why are you out so early?" he asked. "When I called up your house at nine o'clock they said that you were already downtown, and

"Well, there was a dress sale." began the young woman, "and I had to come downtown early to get a bargain. I got one, too-a $67 dress for $25."

"Well, you've nothing on me," responded the man. "I bought a new suit myself this morning. Only the tables were turned with me—I got a $25 suit for $67."—Indianapolis News

LOOK OUT

Saturday, May 29th,

I will sell the WALKER AND A. D. BRADSHAW FARM, near McCreary in Garrard county, consisting of about 300 ACRES of as good land as there is in the United States.

SANDSTONE: that means BURLEY, CORN, CLOVER, HOGS AND CATTLE. This land has not been punished, but is ready to bring a reward. Is this true? Go and See.

THREE FARMS DIVIDED TO SUIT THE PURCHASER

All in a group known as the "Tunce" Bradshaw farm, the John Harrison Posey and the Sam Boone Lear farm.

Now if any buyer will indicate, how he wants it cut, I will offer it that way and see if he wants it. On these farms are located three splendid residences, five good tobacco barns, stock scales, Silo's and all necessary outbuildings. Lots of fruit, school house, within a stones throw of all of them. Children can go to school and come home for dinner. On County road from McCreary to Nina. Will have Rural Route, when the citizens get behind it and ask for it.

It is safe to say with the exercise of a small amount of diligence a pike will run through it in twelve months. What makes you think a pike will run through it? I sold the Gibbs farm on the same ridge, eight months ago and told you I believed a mile of pike would be built through this, going toward the Bradshaw land. You see the money has been made up, don't you? You see the advertisement in the Record for bidders to construct it, don't you?

Some frost bitten bull yearlings, said it would not be done, when it was announced at the Gibbs sale. The money is ready that will build the road, mistaken were they not?

I will show to the bidders on the day of sale, the list of the subscribers, to run from the Bradshaw land to connect with the Gibbs pike and when this pike is run, you will see the most desirable as well as the most fertile land in the county, that may not bring over $300.00 an acre, on day of sale, that will be richly worth $400.00 when the pike is constructed.

Can you afford to buy where you can make any crop, and then 25 per cent on your investment? Ask your mother-in-law, she will tell you no; ask some old man, he will tell you "not to buy, land is going down", and they are the kind that belong in the hearse. Ask the fellow who is in the procession, the man who is ge tting by; look back twenty-five years and see if the man who has bought, is not in the procession today. The small man will get to be a big man, when he raises "his sights"; the tenant will be a landlord.

If you would rather pay $400.00 rent on land per acre, and remain a tenant, go and do it. If you have any money to make your payment, TERMS WILL BE EASY. USE YOUR CREDIT. WHAT YO YOU WANT WITH A CREDIT IF YOU DON'T USE IT.

Don't ask any body's advice, you had as well been born an idiot, if some one else must do your thinking. Figure this out your self BEFORE SATURDAY MAY 29th.

You small fellows, get out of the horse collar, where you learned to sit alone, AND WALK WITH MEN AND BE A MAN. BUY LAND, KEEP YOUR BOYS AT HOME. THEY WILL LEAVE YOU AND SHOULD DO IT, IF YOU DON'T GIVE THEM A CHANCE.

BUY OR HELP THEM TO BUY.

Get out of your old heads, that it is the boys pig, but Pap's hog; its the boys colt, but Pap's horse; its the boys calf, but Pap's Stick to your boys, give them a chance, they will pull together. Remember there is Strength in Union, Danger in Discord.

COME EARLY, SALE BEGINS AT 10.30. BRASS BAND.

Will have soup if I can get some one to make it. Walk in on your own legs, stand on them when you get there. $10.00 IN GOLD WILL BE GIVEN THE BEST LOOKING LADY ON THE GROUND UNDER 75 YEARS OLD.

COME, COME, COME.

(Prepared by the United States Depart-ment of Agriculture.)

An example of the benefit which may come to a community from the well-directed efforts of state and federal agencies, coupled with the co-op-eration of farmers, for the control of hog cholera is shown in a recent report of a veterinary inspector of the bureau of animal industry.

Hog cholers control work was inaugurated in six counties in the north-eastern section of North Carolina Au-gust 1, 1916. An intensive campaign was carried on for a period of 14 months. It included investigation of reported outbreaks, demonstrations in the use of serum and virus, and the disinfection of premises. As the services of practicing veterinarians were not available, a number of laymen were trained in the administration of the serum treatment for cholern. After that period of intensive activities the work was withdrawn to another section of the state, only general supervision being given to the original area.

During October a survey was made of the counties comprising the district in question, and a questionnaire was submitted to as many of the farmers as could be reached. Answers received and tabulated indicate that there has been a reduction in losses from cholera of over 72 per cent, and an increase of over 160 per cent in swine production, due to the protection offered by the immunization of the animals. There has also been a marked improvement in the type of this class of animals, due to the knowledge that it is possible to raise more and better hogs without danger of having them destroyed by cholera.

BRONCHITIS IN LITTLE PIGS Not Much Can Be Done in Way of Treatment—Damp, Cold Pens Are Cause of Trouble.

Bronchitis most commonly occurs in young pigs. Matured hogs are seldom troubled with it. If it attacks very young pigs it often proves fatal, but oigs two or three months old will generally survive, though their growth may be seriously interfered with. The disease is accompanied by a distressing cough, which usually disappears with the advent of warm weather and outdoor exercise. Little can be done in the way of treatment. Dry pens free from drafts, nourishing feed and as much exercise as possible are the principal points to be observed. Damp, cold pens are the most common cause of this trouble.

MORE HOGS ARE NEEDED NOW

Every Farmer Must Put Forth Best Endeavors to Produce More Pork This Season.

If we expect to continue to provide meat to foreign peoples as well as our own people, every farmer must put forth his best effort to produce more hogs. Hogs can be kept profitably upon many farms where they are not found today. Farmers who already produce hogs can produce more, for there is not much chance of preducing meat this year in excess of the re
